

INTERNATIONAL PEACE INITIATIVE (IPI)

INFO FILE ON I.P.I.

The International Peace Initiative (IPI) is launched on Monday 3rd December 2012, to work towards finding a lasting and durable peace in Turkey through a process of dialogue and negotiations between the Turkish Government and Abdullah Öcalan, representing the Kurdish people. It seeks the support of the international community and international institutions to support, promote and encourage such process for the good of all the people of Turkey.

The objectives of the IPI are:

- To facilitate a lasting peaceful solution to the Kurdish Question and provide a political and social bridge that opens the way for dialogue.
- To welcome peace-building steps from all parties to the conflict and encourage compromise
- To highlight in an international forum the key issues affecting the resolution of the Kurdish Question
- To inform policy makers and the public, through periodic reports and recommendations, on developments in Turkey with regard to the resolution of the Kurdish Question.

The IPI will be headed by a Secretariat which will implement the objectives.
